CHIEF JUDGE'S REPORT

Paul Mannassis

The inaugural Royal Adelaide Coffee Show was held in April, and what a show it was. A total of 303 exhibitors, from all over Australia, competed for a prestigious Royal Adelaide medal.

Exhibitors had the opportunity to present in four classes: plunger, piccolo, latte, and espresso. To ensure an accurate representation of the industry, imported blends, Australian, and single origin coffees were all accepted for evaluation.

The inviting aroma of freshly ground coffee filled the room as the judges meticulously assessed each exhibit. Flavours they were on the lookout for included caramel, nuts, chocolate, and fruit.

The overall quality of the exhibits was of a high standard, which was reflected by the number of medals awarded.

A special thanks goes to the Australian Coffee Traders Association (ACTA) for helping to promote the event and for sourcing highly qualified judges nationwide.

The level of judging expertise ranged from representatives from small, family-run roasteries to multinationals. The awards even had a handful of judges who had grown coffee in places such as Papua New Guinea and Indonesia.

A big thanks to Lucy and the team at the Royal Agricultural and Horticultural Society for organising such a well-run event. And to all the wonderful stewards, baristas, sponsors, and businesses who offered their staff – thank you for helping us to further develop the Australian coffee industry.
